Animal studies demonstrate that certain monoclonal NAbs are beneficial as therapeutic agents for neurologic diseases. This class of antibodies represents a unique source from which to develop a new class of disease-modifying therapies. Naturally Occurring Monoclonal Antibodies and Their ... Antibodies with germline or close to germline configuration exist in vertebrates, and these so-called 'naturally occurring auto-antibodies' (NAb) are directed to self and altered self components. Such NAbs have been attracting increasing interest because several of them, including some in their recombinant forms, have therapeutic potential. Naturally occurring auto-antibodies in homeostasis and disease NAbs of the IgG, IgA, or IgM isotype contain germline or close to germline sequences and are reactive to self-components, altered self-components, or foreign antigens. Our investigative group developed recombinant, autoreactive, natural human IgM antibodies directed against oligodendrocytes or neurons with therapeutic potential for central nervous system repair. Naturally Occurring Monoclonal Antibodies and Their ... The anticipated broader and variable specificity of neutrophil-reactive antibodies in pooled immunoglobulins has prompted us to consider them as a subgroup of naturally occurring antibodies (NAbs). NAbs are produced by B-1 cells prior to and independent of external antigenic stimulation. Intravenous immunoglobulins contain naturally occurring ... Tau effluxes from the brain to the blood could potentially stimulate the production of naturally occurring antibodies (NAbs). We aimed to investigate whether NAbs to tau (NAbs-tau) was generated in human blood and to figure out the alteration of plasma NAbs-tau level in AD patients. Naturally Occurring Antibodies to Tau Exists in Human ... Späth P.J., Lutz H.U. (2012) Naturally Occurring Antibodies/Autoantibodies in Polyclonal Immunoglobulin Concentrates. In: Lutz H.U. Naturally occurring antibodies (NAbs) directed to band 3 protein

(major erythrocyte membrane protein) are involved in the clearance of red blood cell (RBC) at the end of their lifespan as well as in the removal of RBC in different hereditary haemolytic disorders and in malaria. In all cited situations RBC undergoes oxidative stress and hemichromes (haemoglobin degradation products) are formed. Naturally occurring anti-band 3 antibodies and red blood ... OBJECTIVE: To review the role of monoclonal, naturally occurring antibodies (NAb)s as novel therapeutic molecules for treatment of neurologic disorders. EVIDENCE REVIEW: Peer-reviewed articles, including case reports, case series, retrospective reviews, prospective randomized clinical trials, and basic science reports, were identified in a

Prion Protein Antibodies Found to Be Naturally Occurring The Thomsen-Friedenreich (TF) antigen is expressed in a majority of human tumors due to aberrant glycosylation in cancer cells. There is strong evidence that humoral immune response to TF represents an effective mechanism for the elimination of cancer cells that express TF-positive glycoconjugates. The presence of naturally occurring antibodies to tumor-associated TF and cancer-specific
