Bilingualism (multilingualism) refers to the coexistence of more than one language system within an individual, as contrasted to monolingualism. The question of how the two languages interact at the cognitive and behavioral levels has been of long-standing interest to psycholinguists as well as to neurologists, clinicians, and educators. Bilingualism Psycholinguistics, however, still approaches language and the speaker/hearer from the point of view of monolingualism, supposing this to be the normal state. It is necessary not only to broaden the frame of psycholinguistics but also to give bilingualism the place it deserves in humanities. Psycholinguistic aspects of bilingualism
